

We believe that it is very important to maintain 216-217 MHz Frequency availability for assistive listening devices. As the population ages, more and more people will be dependent on such devices to meet their communication needs.