DECLARATION

I, Bob Metz, a member of the Lincoln, Illinois Chamber of Commerce, own and operate P & M Communications at 527 Woodlawn Road in Lincoln, and hereby state the following under penalty of perjury:

1. I have owned and operated a Lincoln Retail Store for the past 14 years.
2. As needed, WHMX-FM Radio provides a valuable option for my advertising needs in the Lincoln market;
3. Lincoln is a sizeable community with a population of approximately 15,500 people and has a work force of more than 11,000 people. Lincoln also has its own government and courthouse, dozens of local businesses, its own park district, seven (7) elementary schools, a Junior High and High School, three colleges, many churches and recreation and entertainment activities.
4. The Community of Lincoln relies on radio station WHMX-FM for local public service announcements; school closings; road/traffic information and community affairs and health and safety information.
5. Such important local information is not available to the Lincoln community on other broadcast stations licensed to other communities which Lincoln residents can receive.
6. The signal of WLLM – AM in Lincoln is weak and subject to interference, and at nighttime cannot be received in parts of the city.
7. WLNK-FM in Lincoln is a Lincoln College Educational Station. I spoke with Lincoln College Dean Tom Zurkammer this date and he advised: "Our College Radio Station has been off the air for three (3) years and we have no immediate plans for it's return."
8. WHMX-FM is an important and vital part of the Lincoln community and its relocation would cause significant hardship to the residents of Lincoln.

Stated this 30th day of July 2001.

DECLARATION

I, Tom Kushak, President of Long Nine, Inc., hereby state the following under penalty of perjury:

1. On the afternoon of Friday, July 27, 2001, I traveled by car to the City of Lincoln, Illinois at approximately 3:30 p.m.
2. Using a high quality digital car receiver, I was unable to detect any local programming on 88.9 MHz, WLNX(FM), Lincoln, Illinois. Occasionally, I was able to receive a faint signal on 88.9 Mhz that was identified as WEIU(FM) in Charleston, Illinois.
3. I drove throughout the City of Lincoln and surrounding area for more than thirty minutes and was unable to receive a signal from WLNX(FM).
4. Based on my experience, it is my belief that WLNX(FM) is currently off the air.

Stated this 30th day of July 2001.

DECLARATION

I, Thomas M. Doll, Legal Assistant at the law firm of Shaw Pittman, LLP, Washington, D.C., hereby state the following under penalty of perjury:

1. On the afternoon of Friday, July 27, 2001, I called the Office of Admissions of Lincoln College, Lincoln, Illinois (1-800-569-0556) to inquire whether the station licensed to the college, WLNK(FM), is currently on the air.
2. I spoke with Stacy Rachel, Associate Director of Admissions at approximately 4:45 p.m. EST, who informed me that WLNK(FM) has been "out of order" for "about three years."
3. Based on my discussion with Ms. Rachel, it is my understanding that WLNK(FM) is currently off the air.

Stated this 30th day of July 2001.

ENGINEERING STATEMENT

This engineering statement is prepared on behalf of Long Nine, Inc., licensee of Radio Stations WMAY(AM) - Springfield, Illinois, WNNS(FM) - Springfield, Illinois, and WQLZ(FM) - Taylorville, Illinois, and proposed assignee of Radio Station WLUJ(FM) - Petersburg, Illinois. It is prepared in support of comments in MM Docket 01-120, which proposes to reallocate Channel 230B1 from Lincoln, Illinois to Sherman, Illinois and modify the license for WMHX(FM) to specify Sherman as its community of license.

This proposed reallocation would leave Lincoln (population 15,369¹) devoid of full time commercial service, leaving only a daytime AM station² (WLLM) and a low power³ noncommercial educational FM station (WLNK) providing local service to Lincoln. On the other hand, while Sherman (population 2871) presently has no local service, it is, as shown below, located immediately contiguous to the Springfield Urbanized Area⁴ and is well served by stations licensed to other communities in the Springfield area.

Figure 1.0 is a map exhibit depicting the boundaries of Sherman in relation to those for the Springfield Urbanized Area, as defined by the 1990 U. S. Census. As shown in this map exhibit, while Sherman is not presently considered to be located within this urbanized area, its southern boundary is contiguous with a portion of the ¹All population data in this engineering statement is extracted from the 2000 U. S. Census.

²Although WLLM is authorized to operate during nighttime hours with 35 watts, these nighttime facilities operate on a secondary basis and WLLM is considered by the FCC to be a daytime only station.

³WLNK operates with only an effective radiated power of 0.225 kilowatts at 21 meters above average terrain.

northern boundary of this urbanized area. Also shown in this figure are the present and proposed WMHX sites and the predicted 70 dBu contours across this urbanized area from both of these sites. As per FCC policy at the allotment stage, both of these contours were projected assuming uniform terrain and nondirectional operation with maximum Class B1 facilities of 25 kilowatts effective radiated power at 100 meters above average terrain. As shown in this map exhibit, the present WMHX 70 dBu contour will encompass 45.9 square kilometers, or 34.5%, of the land area within this urbanized area, while the proposed WMHX 70 dBu contour will encompass 64.1 square kilometers, or 48.2%, of the land area within this urbanized area.

Figure 1.0 also depicts the fully spaced site location area for Channel 230B1 in Sherman, which encompasses 314.0 square kilometers. Also shown in this figure is a dashed boundary, which subdivides this fully spaced site area. Sites located within this fully spaced site area to the south and west of this dashed boundary, which encompasses 221.3 square kilometers, would provide 70 dBu service to 50% or more of the Springfield Urbanized Area. Thus, based on this information, sites located in 70.5% of the fully spaced site location area for Channel 230B1 in Sherman would permit WMHX to place a 70 dBu signal over 50% or more of this urbanized area. Furthermore, although there are no fully spaced sites which would permit WMHX to provide 70 dBu service to this entire urbanized area if Channel 230B1 is reallocated to Sherman, it would theoretically be possible to relocate WMHX to a fully spaced site which would provide 70 dBu service to in excess of 99% of the land area within this urbanized area if this channel is reallocated as proposed.

Studies were also conducted to determine the number of other stations providing full time aural service to any portion of both Lincoln and Sherman. Because the population of both communities exceeds 2500, these studies assumed that Class A AM stations provide nighttime service to their 2 mV/m groundwave contours. All other AM stations were assumed to provide nighttime service to their interference free contours, as defined by Section 73.182 of the FCC Rules. Class D AM stations operating at night with less than 250 watts were not considered to provide any nighttime service, as they operate on a secondary basis at night and are considered to be daytime only stations. These studies also assumed that all FM stations provide full time service to their 1 mV/m contours. All AM contours were projected using the notified facilities for each station from the CDBS and conductivity data extracted from FCC Figure M3. All FM contours were projected using the notified facilities for each station from the CDBS and terrain data extracted from the NGDC 30 second terrain database. Pursuant to FCC policy, all authorized stations, including noncommercial educational FM stations (excluding Class D and LPFM) were included in these studies.

Table 1.0 presents a tabulation of all other stations which provide full time aural service to any portion of Lincoln, while Table 1.1 provides a similar tabulation for Sherman. As shown by this data, Lincoln presently receives full time aural service from seven other stations, six of which provide service to the entire city. Sherman, on the other hand, presently receives full time aural service from fourteen other stations, thirteen of which provide service to the entire city.

In Logan County there are a total of 19 public schools and 5 parochial schools. The public schools include 13 elementary schools, 3 middle schools, and 3 senior high schools. (Schools listed above)

Heartland Community College, founded in 1990, is a two-year community college with a central campus in Bloomington. Classes meet in Bloomington, Lincoln, and Pontiac, with approximately 3,068 students. Heartland Community College is a fully-accredited college that provides small class sizes and highly qualified faculty as part of its commitment to learning and teaching.

Lincoln College is a private two-year liberal arts college. Founded in 1865, Lincoln College is fully accredited by the North Central Association. The Associate in Arts Degree satisfies the general education requirements of most four-year universities in Illinois and grants students junior standing upon transferring to a four year institution. With a full-time enrollment of about 550 students, Lincoln College features a large library, six class room buildings, five residence halls, and complete athletic and artistic facilities, and three computer labs. Courses include fine arts, English, biology, math, history, psychology, business, criminology, pre-nursing, and communication.

Lincoln Christian College and Seminary (formerly Lincoln Bible Institute) celebrated its 50th anniversary in 1994. The college is a four-year Bible college affiliated with the Christian Church. It is accredited by the American Association of Bible Colleges and the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. With a student body of approximately 567 students, it offers the Association of Arts, Bachelor of Arts, and Bachelor of Science degrees in various religious fields.
