Form 471 Application No. 230938

Dear Ms. Salas:

Transmitted herewith, on behalf of Madera Unified School District ("Madera"), are an original and four (4) copies of its Request for Review of the decision of the Schools and Libraries Division ("SLD") Administrator in the above-captioned proceeding. For the reasons set forth in the Request for Review, Madera requests that the Commission direct SLD to accept Madera's application as having been filed during the SLD's January 2001 filing window.

An extra copy of this filing is enclosed. Please date-stamp the extra copy and return it to the courier for return to me.

Form 471 Application Number 230938
Funding Year 4, 7/1/2001- 6/30/2002

Request for Review

Madera Unified School District ("Madera"), by its attorneys and pursuant to Sections 54.719(c) and 54.721 of the Commission's rules, 47 C.F.R. §§ 54.719(c), 54.721, hereby requests a review of the decision of the Schools and Libraries Division ("SLD") of the Universal Service Administrative Company regarding Madera's Year Four Funding Request (Form 471 Application Number 230938). For the reasons set forth below, the Commission should direct the SLD to accept Madera's application as having been timely filed during the SLD's filing window.

I. Statement of Facts.

Madera electronically filed its FCC Form 471 application on January 17, 2001. As part of the application, Mr. Steven Imrie, Director of Data Processing for Madera, typed his name in

By an undated postcard, SLD notified Madera that its application was received after the January 18 window closed.<sup>2</sup> SLD indicated that because the application was considered late-filed, the application would be held pending final processing of those applications filed during the window. SLD further stated that it had not yet determined whether late-filed applications would be considered for discount funding. Applications that are received outside of the filing window are subject to separate funding priorities under the Commission’s rules.<sup>3</sup>

By letter dated July 23, 2001, Madera filed a Letter of Appeal with the SLD. The SLD Administrator denied Madera’s appeal, indicating that FCC rules did not permit SLD to consider Madera’s request.<sup>4</sup> Madera now submits this timely appeal of the SLD Administrator’s decision to the Commission.

II. Pursuant to the E-Sign Act, the Date on Which the Paper Signature Was Mailed To SLD Is Not Relevant to Determining if Form 471 Was Received During the Filing Window.

The SLD improperly determined that Madera failed to file FCC Form 471 within the filing window. Madera’s electronically signed Form 471 was received by the SLD well within the filing window. In addition to the electronically signed Form 471, Madera also submitted a paper signature. Pursuant to the Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (“E-Sign Act”), the date that the electronically signed application was received is controlling as the date of submission of the application.

<sup>3</sup> 47 C.F.R. § 54.507(g). It is highly unlikely that applications that are considered to have been received outside the filing window will result in the receipt of any E-rate funding.

The E-Sign Act went into effect on October 1, 2000.<sup>5</sup> The SLD's Form 471 for Year 4 is dated October 2000 and therefore is subject to the E-Sign Act.

The E-Sign Act states, in pertinent part:

Section 101. General Rule of Validity.

(a) IN GENERAL. - Notwithstanding any statute, regulation, or other rule of law . . . with respect to any transaction in or affecting interstate or foreign commerce –

(1) a signature, contract, or other record relating to such transaction may not be denied legal effect, validity, or enforceability solely because it is in electronic form; and

(2) a contract relating to such transaction may not be denied legal effect, validity, or enforceability solely because an electronic signature or electronic record was used in its formation.

The term “transaction” is defined as “an action or set of actions relating to the conduct of business, consumer, or commercial affairs between two or more persons . . . .”<sup>6</sup> The term “person” includes a government agency such as the FCC,<sup>7</sup> meaning that a set of actions relating to the business and commercial affairs between an FCC applicant and the Commission constitutes a “transaction” under the statute, provided that the set of actions affects interstate commerce. Owing to the numerous service providers and schools involved in the E-rate program, Madera submits that the set of actions contemplated by the FCC Form 471 application process “affects” interstate commerce for purposes of the statute. Accordingly, pursuant to the E-Sign Act, FCC E-rate applications may be filed electronically in lieu of being filed in paper

form, and electronic signatures contained in such applications cannot be denied legal effect simply because they were not filed in paper format.

In this instance, SLD specifically requested applicants to complete the “Certification and Signature” block as part of the electronic Form 471 application. Mr. Imrie, Madera’s representative, did so and filed the electronic application during the filing window. Because Madera’s electronic Form 471 contained the legally binding electronic signature of Madera’s representative, Mr. Imrie, Madera submits that SLD was prohibited under the E-Sign Act from requiring Madera to subsequently submit a signature page in paper form. Accordingly, Madera cannot be punished for failure to comply with an impermissible SLD rule. The Commission should therefore direct SLD to deem Madera’s application as having been timely received during the filing window.<sup>8</sup>

In addition, Section 104(c) of the E-Sign Act prohibits state and federal agencies from imposing or reimposing “any requirement that a record be in a tangible printed or paper form.” The only exception to this rule is if there is a “compelling government interest relating to law enforcement or national security” and imposing a paper requirement is essential to attaining that interest.<sup>9</sup>

In this situation there is no such compelling government interest relating to law enforcement. First, SLD is not a law enforcement agency and lacks law enforcement powers.

<sup>8</sup> This case should be distinguished from previous Commission decisions that were decided prior to the enactment of the E-Sign Act. See, e.g., Federal-State Joint Board on Universal Service; Changes to the Board of Directors of the National Exchange Carrier Association, Inc. and the Application of Bruggemeyer Memorial Library, DA 99-1529, CC Docket Nos. 96-45 and 97-21, Order, 14 FCC Rcd 13,170 (Com. Car. Bur. 1999). In that case, the Commission denied a request for review by an applicant who filed its Form 471 electronically and faxed the signature page to the SLD but did not submit the original signature page to the SLD until after the filing window closed. Madera submits that the E-Sign Act invalidates the rationale underpinning the Bruggemeyer decision. Similarly, the Commission’s decision in Winchendon School can be distinguished from the present case because the Winchendon application was submitted for Funding Year 3. The application filing window for Funding Year 3 and the relevant FCC forms in use at that time predated the E-Sign Act. See In re Request for Waiver by The Winchendon School, Winchendon, MA, Federal-State Joint Board on Universal Service, Changes to the Board of Directors of the National Exchange Carrier Association, Inc., File No. SLD-192816, DA 01-2033, Order (Com. Car. Bur. rel. Aug. 28, 2001).

Second, and more importantly, the prevention of fraud is not a sufficient justification for requiring original signature pages, because such a justification would undermine the very purpose of the E-Sign Act. The Act is designed to legitimize electronic signatures; if Congress intended the prevention of fraud to be a compelling interest justifying an original signature page, Congress would not have enacted the law in the first place.

Finally, the Commission has recognized that the E-Sign Act supersedes its rules. Pursuant to former Section 64.1160(b) of the FCC's rules, 47 C.F.R. § 64.1160(b), the FCC required long distance carriers to obtain the written signature of new customers. In September 2000, in reaction to the E-Sign Act, the FCC began permitting electronic signatures without the need for the submission of original signatures.<sup>10</sup> As an agent of the FCC, SLD should not maintain stricter standards than the FCC itself.

III. Nothing of Value Is Gained by the Duplicative Original Signature Page Requirement.

As a separate matter, Madera submits that the SLD's paper signature submission requirement serves no useful purpose and should not be required. By inserting a representative name and submitting the Form 471 application electronically, the signatory for Madera completed the "Certification and Signature" portion of the form. The signatory thus certified that the information contained in the application was accurate, and indeed the school was thus bound by that certification in the same way as a paper signature binds the school. Therefore, nothing is gained by a redundant requirement that applicants print out and submit a paper signature to the SLD.

<sup>10</sup> See 47 C.F.R. § 64.1120(c)(1); see also Implementation of the Subscriber Carrier Selection Changes Provisions of the Telecommunications Act of 1996; Policies and Rules Concerning Unauthorized Changes of Consumers Long Distance Carriers, CC Docket No. 94-129, FCC 00-255 (rel. Aug. 15, 2000) (Letters of Agency may be submitted electronically, without any written original signature requirement). In the decision, the FCC specifically cites as authority the E-Sign Act.

Furthermore, the paper signature requirement runs counter to the representations made to the Office of Management and Budget (“OMB”) in the Commission’s application seeking approval of FCC Form 471. In its application to OMB, the Commission stated that “[t]here will be no duplication of information.”<sup>11</sup> Clearly, a requirement that applicants filing electronically must submit a paper copy of their electronic signature is a duplication of information, particularly when no such burden is placed on applicants filing via mail.

Importantly, FCC rules do not require the submission of a paper signature page in addition to the certifications made in electronic filings. Indeed, out of all of the available electronic applications that can be submitted to the FCC, not one form requires the applicant to follow up with a signed original. The SLD should not have a more onerous standard than the agency by whom it was established.

IV. In Attempting to Comply with the Paperwork Reduction Act, the Commission Failed to Comply with the Applicable OMB Approval

The SLD improperly rejected Madera’s FCC Form 471 application. While it is not stated in the funding denial, it appears that Madera’s FCC Form 471 was rejected because of the FCC Form 471 instructions that require a paper signature in addition to the electronic signature, and that require all attachments to be filed as hard copies within the filing window. These obligations, to the extent that they penalize Madera, are invalid pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act (“PRA”).

The “public protection” provisions of the PRA are as follows:

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no person shall be subject to any penalty for failing to comply with a collection of information . . . if—

(1) the collection of information does not display a valid control number assigned by the Director [of OMB]. . . or

(2) the agency fails to inform the person who is to respond to the collection of information that such person is not required to respond to the collection of information unless it displays a valid control number.

(b) The protection provided by this section may be raised in the form of a complete defense, bar, or otherwise at any time during the agency administrative process or judicial action applicable thereto.<sup>12</sup>

These provisions supersede all other laws. See Saco River Cellular, Inc. v. FCC, 133 F.3d 25, 33 (D.C. Cir. 1998), cert. denied, 525 U.S. 813 (1998). In that case, following the enactment in 1995 of the above subsection (b), the Commission was required to entertain, and ultimately grant, a reconsideration request that was filed years late, because the Commission had not complied with the PRA requirements and because Section 3512(b) entitled the petitioner to raise the “protection provided by” subsection (b) “at any time during the agency administrative process” and “[n]otwithstanding any other provision of law.”

“Collection of information” means, inter alia, the obtaining of information by or for an agency by means of identical questions posed to ten or more persons, whether the collection of such information is mandatory, voluntary or required to obtain a benefit.<sup>13</sup> FCC Form 471 fits within this definition because the FCC (through its agent SLD) obtains the information required by FCC Form 471 from schools in order to determine a school’s eligibility to obtain the benefits of the E-rate program. Thus, FCC Form 471 is a “collection of information,” and the Commission did in fact submit it for approval by OMB.

On September 1, 2000, OMB conditionally approved an emergency extension of the form,<sup>14</sup> subject to the following “Existing Terms of Clearance”:

On both FCC Form 470 and FCC Form 471, the FCC shall clearly display at the top of the forms the following PRA disclosure statement: ‘An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to, a collection of information unless it

displays a currently valid OMB control number. The OMB control number for this information collection is #3060-0806.’<sup>15</sup>

The Commission did not comply with these “terms of clearance.” Instead, the Commission placed only the following statement at the top of the year 2000 electronic edition of FCC Form 471, which Madera used to make its filing: “Approval by OMB3060-0806.”

Thus, the FCC Form 471 as used by Madera was not approved by OMB, since the form used did not display the information notice required pursuant to Section 3512(a)(2) of the PRA, and since it failed to comply with the specific “terms of clearance” outlined by OMB in its approval of Form 471.<sup>16</sup> The consequence of that failure is that Madera should be permitted to supply any missing information at any time that its application is within the administrative process. The OMB regulations implementing the PRA require that where, as here, an agency has imposed a collection of information as a means for proving or satisfying a condition for the receipt of a benefit that is not in compliance with OMB requirements, the agency must permit a respondent to satisfy the legal conditions in any other reasonable manner. In this instance, Madera submits that the most appropriate remedy would be to direct SLD to accept the materials Madera submitted on January 19, 2001, and process the application.

V. Conclusion.

Madera’s application should be deemed to have been filed during the filing window because the paper signature requirement violates the E-Sign Act. Moreover, Madera cannot be penalized for having failed to comply with the filing requirements of an FCC form that did not comply with the requirements set forth in the form’s OMB approval, and did not display the information notice required by the PRA. To avoid improperly penalizing Madera in this situation, the Commission should direct SLD to accept Madera's application as having been timely filed during the Year 4 filing window.

<sup>16</sup> In addition, there is not even an OMB control number on the printed version of the FCC Form 471 with which electronically-filing applicants are provided. Madera submits that the OMB control number and other OMB required information should appear on all versions of the FCC Form 471, regardless of format, in order to comply with the OMB’s specific instructions set forth in the terms of clearance.

Respectfully submitted,
