

To make all people more aware of the needs of people with hearing impairment, I would suggest that all phone companies be required to provide a metallic sticker for each phone that shows 711 for Deaf Relay. All new phones should be required to have the sticker on them.

Captioning on television is working well in many places... but as the computer is becoming more utilized by many of us we are finding that videos with NO CAPTIONS are being offered on the news on the net. I would like to see this as a requirement for net news.
