

Dear FCC,

I am writing to implore you to stop undermining the public interest in favor of corporate special interest. With recent efforts to lift the cross-ownership ban, you are enabling huge multi-nationals to take over our media. This will lead to a deadening of the worthiness of the news, losing more and more of our communities voice and instead getting single-minded pundits reporting in all media markets. I implore you to keep the cross-ownership ban in place in order to protect the free speech of all Americans.

Sincerely,

Scot Quaranda
