

I feel that cell phone numbers should be portable. If we(the consumer) could take our cell phone number with us, then just maybe the companies providing service will be forced to do a better job of providing that service! I can see no reason why not.