

I am deeply concerned about XO Communications pre-planned bankruptcy filing involving Telefonos de Mexico (TelMex). I am an expert in telecommunications, in particular networking, and XO's infrastructure could be viewed as one of these most advanced telecommunications infrastructure in the United States. I am concerned about giving another country any sort of control over this network. It both erodes our economy and creates national security holes. Please think about these issues.

Thank you,

Ian Koskela