A Brief History of the Maitland Historical Society

The Maitland Historical Society, celebrating its 30th anniversary in 2000, traces its roots to the Maitland Women's Club. It became a separate organization in 1970, with the mission of preserving, protecting and promoting Maitland's historical heritage. Members devoted most of their energy in early days to collecting historical items from local pioneer families which were stored in private homes until the Society opened the Maitland Historical Museum in 1977.

Since then, the Maitland Historical Society has added three other museum facilities to its family: the Telephone Museum, which is located adjacent to the Maitland Historical Museum and opened in 1987, the Historic Waterhouse Residence Museum, which was fully restored and opened to the public in 1992, and the Waterhouse Carpentry Shop Museum, also fully restored, and opened to the public in 1994. The organization experienced its largest growth in membership after the restoration of the Waterhouse Residence, which, more than any other facility, has helped trigger a resurgence of interest in the City's history and heritage. In addition to its museums, the Society serves the Central Florida Community through educational programming, exhibits, speakers and research facilities and is also active in historic preservation.

The Maitland Historical Society hired its first full-time professional staff member, an Executive Director, in March 1992. In addition to a volunteer Board of Directors, the Society utilizes volunteers to act as tour guides and to aid in research, curating of museum collections, special events, educational programs and public relations.

The Society is funded primarily by the City of Maitland but also receives support through a competitive grants program from the State of Florida, Division of Historical Resources, and through a variety of membership programs and donations.

Maitland Historical Society is a member of Maitland South Seminole Chamber of Commerce, the Orlando-Orange County Convention and Visitors Bureau, the Orange County Historical

The History of Park Maitland School

The 2001-2002 school year marks Park Maitland School's 34th year! A challenging academic curriculum, a program rich in the arts, a wide variety of activities to encourage physical development, all intertwined with opportunities to develop socially and emotionally in a warm, loving setting . . . these are the principal philosophies upon which Park Maitland School was founded. The same philosophies hold true today. . . over 34 years later.

In 1968, Nell Cohen, backed by the confidence and financial support of her husband, community leaders, and friends, opened the doors to Park Maitland School. The courage to start a private school at a time when most others were closing their doors due to financial loss came from Mrs. Cohen's belief that children deserved much, much more than was being offered in a traditional classroom.

Small class sizes, talented and creative teachers, a departmentalized approach, a blending of old-fashioned values and classroom basics with up-to-date materials and subject matter all have been responsible for Park Maitland School's success.

Over the years, it has grown from 32 kindergarten and first grade students during its initial year to approximately 600 students in pre-kindergarten through Grade 6. The school has expanded physically from one building in 1968 to six . . . without losing its "quaint and homelike" feeling. Nestled under huge oak trees and surrounded by flowering azaleas and camellias, the circa 1915 renovated homes provide a unique setting for learning.

During the school's first year, Nell Cohen and four other teachers worked with the children. Nell served as teacher, director, and even "maid," while her husband, Bill Cohen, handled the upkeep of the grounds, the pool, and the budget! The school was truly a "labor of love," with the entire Cohen family, along with friends, doing painting, raking, staining, cleaning, etc., to keep expenses down. The school was--and still is--a hands-on work of love.

Park Maitland School has expanded to employ approximately 80 administrators, teachers, and support staff who share in the desire for educational excellence. Their new ideas and thirst to continually reach for the newest and best in education have kept Mrs. Cohen's vision alive and added new layers to the depth of Park Maitland's character. Mrs. Cohen served as president and director for 31 years; in 2000, she assumed a new title, Director Emeritus. The 2001-2002 school year is her 59th as an educator of young children! The halls of Park Maitland have been graced for over 34 years by thousands of bright, creative children. To witness their growth from preschool to sixth grade graduation is to understand what Park Maitland School is truly about. Each leaves their "home away from home" with the foundation and confidence to meet the future. Many revisit the school in later years, each telling of a special memory--or a set of experiences that made a major impact on their lives. Whether the memory be of a beloved teacher, taking part in a musical show, success in certain subjects . . . all reflect Park Maitland's program which is designed to strengthen the variety of talents possessed by each individual student.

Park Maitland's parents have also been instrumental in its success story. Their continual support, their donations of time and materials, their wonderful ideas and suggestions, and, mostly, their trust and willingness to share their children have given Park Maitland reasons to continue. It is this warm, "family" feeling that fosters the school's atmosphere of openness, warmth, and teamwork. The school believes strongly in the principle of open communication between administrators, teachers, parents, and children . . . sharing successes, as well as concerns, is of utmost importance.

From dance to computers, from music to science, from poetry to math, from swimming to visiting Washington, D.C., from the basics of our English language to French and Spanish programs, Park Maitland School will continue to offer quality education to children. Our objective has always been, and always will be, to provide an environment that fulfills and enriches the mental, physical, cultural and social needs of our young citizens.

The past 34 years of experience have laid a strong foundation on which we will continue to build--never losing sight of those beginning philosophies and the most important aspect of our school . . . the love of and respect for children.

About Central Florida:

JLR's Corporate Structure:

JLR Medical Group is a C corporation governed by a physician Board of Directors.

There are forty-three shareholders, seven of which are Directors on the Board.

JLR taps the talent of its members through the use of numerous Executive Committees (i.e., Quality Assurance, Compensation Committee, etc.).

Partnership Opportunities: JLR recognizes the importance of providing partnership opportunities to its physician employees. Partnership is not awarded gratuitously, but rather is an earned status reserved for those physicians who make significant contributions to the practice. Physician employees on partnership tracks are mentored by a senior partner, and are given a vote for partnership during their second year of employment. An affirmative vote ensures partnership in the candidate's third year with the practice.

JLR's Mission Statement:

JLR Administration and Professional Data Management (PDM):

JLR Medical Group is well supported by an in-house team of administrative and billing personnel. In 1992, JLR started its own billing company, PDM and began to assemble an impressive array of support personnel. Currently, there are 50 administrative and billing personnel, of which several hold graduate degrees (i.e., JD, MBA (x2), and MA) and advanced certifications (CPA, Certified Coders, etc.).

PDM uses the finest software for anesthesia specific medical billing. With its integration with electronic claims, collections, coding and insurance billing, the process is efficient, fast and reliable. A Quality Assurance plan is also in effect with the billing company.

A Clinical Services and a Business Development Department provide additional support to the Practice. A Corporate Compliance initiative is also in place.

Antonio's La Fiamma Ristorante

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you as my guest on the web site of Antonio's La Fiamma. The creation of Antonio's has truly been a labor of love.

In 1989, I began what was to become a personal odyssey in search of one of the world's most satisfying pleasures. Authentic Italian Cuisine. Lured by Italy's aura of romance and tradition, I sought out what I considered to be the elements essential to the creation of a restaurant dedicated to the "Authentico Spirito d'Italia." An insistence on authenticity was a primary factor influencing the selection of everything from glassware to the light fixtures.

In my quest for true Italian Cuisine, I sampled pastas, coffees, tomatoes and herbs and literally everything that we use in an effort to create a little bit of Italy in Central Florida. Our menu features selections representative of regions from Sicily to Lake Como. Our fish is cooked the same as on the coasts, steaks as in Tuscany, Riscotto as in Milan. All of our bread is baked on the premises along with our own pastries and desserts.

One of my most significant discoveries came from Hotel San Pietro in Possitano, watching chefs cook on their wood burning ovens and grills for the restaurant, under the open skies of the Mediterranean Sea. The flavors of the wood combined with the use of all fresh herbs and 100% olive oil are the secrets of the simple but excellent Italian cuisine.

I am delighted to serve you and I hope the love and dedication

I have put into Antonio's La Fiamma will truly enhance your dining experience.
