

The Honorable Michael K. Powell
Chairman
Federal Communications Commission

Dear Chairman Powell:

In today's technology world I find it terrible that the consumer does not have a choice in Paid TV programming and the ability to be able to purchase TV programming in the local of their choice. As a retired 24 year USAF Veteran I found that many times I was stationed at places outside where I called home and away from my home networks. It is very unfair that local markets can tell me what I can and can't do, especially if I am willing to pay for another market's programming to include sports. I live in Nevada and I want to watch Texas sports events and can't because Las Vegas will not allow it. I understand they believe they will lose market commercial funds, but if the consumer is allowed to pay to watch other markets it will all balance out. I watch Texas News and Sports and other programming and someone in Texas will want to watch Las Vegas and UNLV, etc. Please take action to protect my rights to view what I wish. I will pay for it and I feel my rights are being violated. It is time big business take a back seat to the consumer.

Sincerely,

Travis Miles
