

It is simple. I have a telephone for my convenience - no one else's.

Since I have to interrupt whatever I am doing to respond to any call, it is unacceptable to me to accept any calls from anyone, whom I do not have a relationship with.

This includes political, charity, and all sales calls.

No one has the right to call me at my residence that I have not personally given my number to.

Unlike paper mail, that I can look at at my convenience, telephone calls are an intrusion.

Email solicitation need to be eliminated as well. I am not interested in paying for connect time to be solicited.

Bottom line - if I want your service - I will find you.

Stop ALL telemarketing calls and emails of any nature.
