

My husband has MS and I have full care of him and his needs. These phone calls where no one says anything is the biggest waste of time for me. I can be in critical situations and have to run and grab the phone for nothing. My caller ID says unavailable so not answering the phone is not an option because I get calls from medical facilities that say the same thing. When I get a call from the VA Hospital in Danville, IL it says the same thing. I think these calls should be outlawed. I really regret they ever got started in the first place. I feel life would be so much easier without the extra hassle. Seven days a week till 10:00 o'clock at night is ridiculous. Please help stop them!!
