

the greatest thing the Indiana government has done lately was to insitute the no telemarketing calls into the homes. Since this law has gone into effect, the number of disturbing calls I get at home has dropped to almost nothing. Please leave the Indiana law alone. It is good for the citizens of the state.