

That the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved my time at home by not being interrupted with telemarketers. Indiana's law has been successful and is nice to have as my calls have decreased in the amount of calls that I receive. I used to receive anywhere from 5-8 calls a day, now I only receive 1 and sometimes not even that.