

I urge you not to pass a requirement that all televisions and video recording equipment include copy protection hardware. No one benefits from this impairment of freedom except big business. Government exists to execute the will of the people not the will of a couple of wealthy tycoons.