

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

To Whom it May Concern,

Please don't weaken but strengthen the rules so that media is beholden to the people, not the other way around. Please give a more diverse range of information back to the majority of citizens that aren't CEO's and Editors in the big corporations that operate and dictate how news is disseminated. This can not happen if corporations are constantly merging and buying one another out. If we are listening to a few stations with the same elite pundits then what does that say about our country and our so called democracy. If we really want a true democracy with real freedoms, we must reverse the trend of the slippery slope towards news conglomerates. If we act now it will be much easier to save our country, if not I fear for the near future and education of our country.

Thanks for your time.

Regards,

Robert Lueking
(Brooklyn)