

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

We need a diverse set of media resources to ensure strong watchdogs and public advocates. By maintaining existing media ownership rules, the FCC helps assure this while at the same time promoting real competition between more media outlets, stimulating revenue and long-term sustainability.