

The fact that Verizon is allowed to run unchecked in regards to rates charged to small ISP's and access, smacks of the further re-monopolizing of the telecommunications industry that deregulation was supposed to put a stop to. They need to be stopped if any company large or small is to operate under the principals of competition and free enterprise. Dan Dai (like Microsoft)