

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

i firmly believe its one of the roles of the FCC is to protect the people, keeping the media outlets serving the people. with all the public interests currently under threat (such as: Newspaper/Broadcast Cross-Ownership Rule, National Broadcast Ownership Cap., ...) i feel the FCC is not doing its job to protect the citizens. please consider proper debate amongst the american people when considering removing such regulations. they're all we have left in protecting us against propoganda.

cincernly, dave j