

If the FCC lifts the dominant classification from the Local Exchange Carriers (Bells), it will limit competition to a duopoly consisting of a bell and a cable company. Competition in the American Telecom marketplace will not be incentivized, it will be torpedoed. ISPs and CLECs will die, consumers will be deprived of choice. DO NOT DO IT. If this is allowed to happen I will lose my freedom of choice and be subject to being serviced by a company that is inferior to the one I am currently using. Currently I have no choice who I get a dial tone from, please do not take away the best service I have ever received from an ISP, it will not only be a hindrance in my everyday life it could end up hurting my livelihood as I use the internet for quite a bit of research for work, my current service has been excellent, I cannot say the same for my telephone service and I fear if this were to be approved I would receive the same inadequate service if I didn't have a choice for DSL.
