

I believe that if such deregulation of monopolies must be considered, the State should be given the power to evaluate the effects on its own market and make its decision accordingly to ensure competition.