

From: Sheba Kane
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change-- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, Im not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isnt fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Sheba Kane
3717 S. La Brea Ave., #307
Los Angeles, CA 90016

From: Joyce Hanz
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change – all at my own expense.

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Joyce Hanz
2624 Camino del Ninos
Corona, CA 92882

From: Norma Skinner
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change-- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Norma Skinner
39726 Cedarwood Dr.
Murrieta, CA 92563

From: Melody Templeton
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my angst concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense. It could also lead to lost opportunities during the transition.

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Melody Templeton
1953 Selby Ave #4
Los Angeles, CA 90025

From: Brett Buffington
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my customers and clients of the number change -- all at a tremendous expense to me and my business.

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, WAKE UP!

Sincerely,

Brett Buffington
2136 Hernandez Ct
Colton, CA 92324

From: Lloyd Simmons
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, Im not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isnt fair; everyone should be treated equally

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Lloyd Simmons
660 Lone Eagle Rd.
Walnut, CA 91789

From: Titus Winters
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Titus Winters
1140 W Blaine St #101
Riverside, CA 92507

From: Jennifer Tait
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change-- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Tait
10801 Lemon Ave. #121
Alta Loma, CA 91737

From: Anne Lauren
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

I am contacting you to express my concern over CPUC's proposal to take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

I urge you to consider an alternative to taking away cellular telephone numbers and assigning them to new landline customers. An all services overlay would allow all existing customers to keep their numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the equally.

Please do not single out cellular telephone customers in order to solve the states telephone number problem, I again urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Anne Lauren
3720 Meier St.
Los Angeles, CA 90066

From: Arman Tanandmas
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Arman Tanandmas
17030 Yukon Ave
Apt 18
Torrance, CA 90504

From: Philip Wang
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense.

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Philip Wang
430 Madrid Ave
Torrance, CA 90501

From: Deb Hartwig
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my concern with the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

I am a SMALL business owner that spends any extra money on advertising my business to gain new business. With this switch of my mobil number, which is the main business number, it will cost me too much to change my business cards, t-shirts and other marketing materials. This would set my business back! I can't afford that! Please do not let this change happen. PLEASE!

Thank you,
Deb Hartwig
310-466-0324

Sincerely,

Deb Hartwig
925 Eucalyptus Dr
El Segundo, CA 90245

From: Martha Small
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my concern on the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense. This is NOT acceptable. If I am forced to change my number ALL expenses incurred to do so should be covered by the agency forcing said change.

I'm not the only one who will be forced to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, "roughly 3 million customers" will be affected by this take away scheme that forces the effected parties to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow ALL existing customer to keep their numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the state's number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Martha Small
11870 Washington Pl
Unit 302
Los Angeles, CA 90066

From: chien lin
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, Im not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isnt fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

chien lin
510 citadel dr
walnut, CA 90789

From: David Kent
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

As a small business owner (General Contractor) who has had my number for 8 years the potential loss of business and amount of time that would need to be spent to contact every customer for the past 8 years is unimaginable.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense.

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

David Kent
2529 Granville Avenue
Los Angeles. CA 90064

From: Mark Douglas
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change – all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Mark Douglas
13701 Marina Pointe Drive
Marina Del Rey, CA 90292

From: Sanaz Tahernia
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/037:06AM
Subject: Area Code 9091310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally. It would simply be unconstitutional to do something like this. Those that have cell phones must go through an extensive change involving a great amount of effort in memorizing and distributing their new cell phone number simply because land lines need more numbers. Instead of burdening all of us citizens, why not simply develop a new area code. It would be much simpler in the transition (three new numbers as opposed to ten new numbers, and it doesn't inconvenience anyone).

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Sanaz Tahernia
32653 Seagate Drive Unit B
Rancho Palos Verdes, CA 90275

From: chukwuka nwaro
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

chukwuka nwaro
1124 scenic drive
san bernadino, CA 92408-1841

From: Sabrina Ramos
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Sabrina Ramos
2421 Foothill Blvd. #22G
La Verne, CA 91750

From: Steve Linville
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Steve Linville
2361 Benidorm Cir. #101
Corona, CA 92879

From: Steve Linville
To: Commissioner Adelstein
Date: 1/5/03 7:06AM
Subject: Area Code 909/310 Warning

Dear Jonathan S. Adelstein:

As a wireless phone customer, I am contacting you to express my anger concerning the proposed wireless number take away in the 310 and 909 area codes in California.

The California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) wants to take away my mobile phone number, and those of millions of others in Southern California, and give them to new landline telephone customers. If the CPUC proposal is approved, every affected wireless phone will have to have its number reprogrammed. I will be forced to notify my friends, family, customers and clients of the number change -- all at my own expense. [If you can estimate the significant time and expense such a change would cost, insert it here.]

And, I'm not the only one who will have to face this ordeal. The San Bernadino Sun writes, roughly 3 million customers will be affected by this take away scheme, which is not only anti-consumer, but also anti-competitive and discriminatory. I will be forced to dial ten digits just to reach local, wireline phones, and vice versa, while only wireline customers would retain seven-digit dialing, and then only to call one another. This simply isn't fair; everyone should be treated equally.

There is an alternative. An all services overlay would allow me and every other existing customer to keep our numbers, and wireless and wireline customers would be treated the same.

Wireless users should not be singled out in order to solve the states number crunch, I urge you to consider an all services overlay.

Sincerely,

Steve Linville
2361 Benidorm Cir. #101
Corona, CA 92879