

I am strongly opposed to any change in FCC regulations regarding media ownership. Unregulated media ownership will result in the concentration of news sources to a few large corporations. These corporations make enormous contributions to the politicians who are then supposed to regulate them. This is not in the public interest.