

I oppose any further relaxation of ownership rules that will allow further consolidation of who owns, manages the news media. Much of the news we see & hear today the result of too few owners. The greater the consolidation the less we, the public, will get to listen to. I used to think that 'big brother' was the result of big government - it is not. 'big brother' is the result of big corporations running big government. If the consolidations are allowed to continue, we are all doomed.
