

I strongly urge the FCC to maintain restrictions on the number of TV and media outlets that a company may own in a given market. I believe increasing ownership concentration into fewer and fewer hands will result in less competition, fewer views, less access to alternative information sources and opinion.