

I am opposed to any changes to FCC rules that make it easier for any media owners to expand their current holdings, either within the same media type or across media types.

America needs more voices, not fewer!