

Companies should not be allowed to own more than one media! That's called information monopoly and is very bad for consumers.