

I support retaining the FCC's media concentration protections as they are, or making them stronger. Consolidation of media ownership is detrimental to a democratic society.