

I hope this is the right place to send this comment. I hope it not too late for my voice to be heard on this matter. I wanted you to know that I believe in diverse ownership of the media. I believe de-centralized ownership of the media, is enriched by a wealth of different opinions and available channels of communication. It is not right, in my opinion wrong for a few media conglomerates (Clear Channel, AOL/Time Warner, Disney, etc) to control the communication for many. This is not in the public interest. Thanks for your time - Andrea McAvey
