

Keep independent voices in the media. Alternative points of view are vital to the survival of a democracy.