

This deregulation is so obvious an abrogation of legislative responsibility that I petition you to own up to your most demanding standards of personal moral expectations.