

The lack of media diversity can never make America a better place. We are a country full of different beliefs and all these beliefs should have the right to be expressed without being shutdown by a bigger media corporation.