

I OPPOSE this ruling which by lifting restrictions on media cross-ownership and allowing greater concentration of media, makes it extremely difficult for the survival of independent media outlets and the small business person.