

The issue of media consolidation is very important to the American people. I urge you to delay the vote on Monday and have meaningful public debates on this issue.