

I object to the lack of public and political debat over this issue. You should be ashamed to force this type of action without it. This will only furhter homoginize the media content provided by the powerful few. Once again shame on you!