

I support democracy and the freedom of information it relies on to whom it may concern - i am already disgusted and frustrated by the ties between large corporations and our media outlets in teh US. i strongly oppose media deregulation which would in effect allow large corporations greater control of the media outlets, from tv, to radio, to internet, to newspapers.

if anything we should be increasing regulation to allow for more local media to reach local people. centralized media in the US is equivalent to corporate control of information. this runs in contrast to the notions of democracy.

Thank you,
