

whatever happened to the public airwaves?
clear channel has made a mockery of the last bastion of american freedom.... if clear channel thinks they are in competition with the internet for listeners/viewers it is because they have driven us there....we need an open marketplace on the public airwaves...not a corporate agenda.
the public needs to control the airwaves not corporate america!