

It came to my attention from my english teacher that the FCC is trying to allow companies to own multiple media outlets such as multiple tv stations, radio stations and news publications in a specific market area. I dont exactly understand the impact that this could play in my life and I am confused by the information that my teacher gave to me. are you trying to control what I do and don't hear? will I truly be affected by any of this? i am a 16 year old girl who uses the internet and watches tv stations such as the wb, mtv, and national stations such as nbc and abc? will I be affected? Is it really your job to shelter what I do and don't see?
