

Cell phone number portability is critical to ensure competition among cell phone service providers and to ensure quality service and reasonable prices for all consumers. I strongly urge the FCC to quickly and thoroughly support the implementation of number portability.