Dear Ms. Dortch:

On July 1, 2003, the Cellular Telecommunications & Internet Association (“CTIA”), represented by Diane Cornell, Vice President for Regulatory Affairs, Andrea Williams, Assistant General Counsel, and Ron Barnes, Director for State Affairs, met with Commissioner Jonathan Adelstein and Barry Ohlson, Legal Advisor for Spectrum and International Issues. The parties discussed issues related to hearing aid compatibility, and specifically addressed issues in the attached presentation. CTIA also provided a copy of the attached press statement announcing the expansion of the CTIA website dedicated to providing information on products that people with disabilities may find helpful, including lists of phones and accessories that may provide inductive coupling capability or lower levels of RF interference.

Pursuant to Section 1.1206 of the Commission’s Rules, this letter is being electronically filed with your office. If you have any questions concerning this submission, please contact the undersigned.

Sincerely,

Diane Cornell
