

I strongly support the proposed new restrictions on unsolicited fax advertisements. I have seen the problem first hand. I am an attorney who represents small businesses who receive thousands of junk faxes every year.

Just this morning, I personally received a junk fax for Florida vacations, which jammed my fax machine. It took me 30 minutes to fix, preventing any real business faxes from coming through during the time that the machine was jammed.

I also wish to express my opposition to ANY exemptions for radio stations or anyone else. Nothing in the TCPA authorizes such exemptions. Small businesses are swamped with junk faxes from radio stations promoting contests and other garbage. It is theft of their paper and ink. Please do not give them an undeserved and unauthorized exemption to the TCPA.

Thank you.
