

In response to comments made in the comments submitted by Florida Power and Light, it should be noted that Part 15 compliance is not sufficient to protect other licensed services. In fact, that is the very complaint. The original applications of part 15 did not include mile long radiators, but instead applied to the radiation of rf from individual items of equipment. This is a totally different situation and should not be certified under part 15.