

My comment are in regards to the mandatory CW testing. I feel I should have the right to decide as a ham operator to either learn and use code or not. Other countries around the world are dropping mandatory CW testing every day. And I feel as Americans in an issue that is so simple, we should have the same rights others around the world are enjoying.. thats the rights Americans have fought for and the rights Americans have died for. And in an issue so simple to disolve, I feel we should continue CW testing in ham radio only as an optional skill, and not as a mandatory requirement.

Sincerely
David R Fuller
KD4IFB