

I would like to comment in favor of approval of RM-10765. A system of various redundant communications facilities would certainly be wise. There's no sense putting all of the "eggs into one basket."