

I am in favor of abolishing the code requirement for general licensees. The code requirement could be left in place for those who wish to advance to the amateur extra license. The U.S. should join the many countries that have abolished this requirement. The chances of saving someone's life by using Morse are remote.

Sincerely,

James G. Hilty

KC8YBW