

This comment concerns the removal of a code requirement for amateur radio qualifications.

I would like to see this requirement for higher class licenses removed.

This in no way is intended to say that the mode is outdated - quite the contrary. There are, however, more modern forms of communication that should be exploited. I feel that elimination of the code requirement would tap a new source of expertise in the amateur radio field.

Frank Szabo
KD5ZES
fszabo@cox.net