

As licensed operator since 1963, I feel that the elimination of Morse code requirements will allow many more to bring their technical expertise to the hobby, a concept that has been vital in the growth of Amateur radio since it's beginning. CW is by no means a required mode, any more than any other mode.