

The GCC has responsibility to act in the public's interest. A plan that would only allow "professionals" to have fully-functional devices for processing digital broadcast materials limits the right of free citizens to own effective tools for employing digital content in useful ways.

I OPPOSE any rule that would make it illegal for ordinary citizens to own fully functional digital television devices.

Charlie Townsend