

I concur with retaining the CW (Element 1) requirement. I would limit the digital mode on the 80 meter Novice sub-band to CW only for training purposes and to limit possibilities of accidental interference to a digital signal they might be trying to use.