

I oppose RM-10808. Mode specific knowledge tests would tend to discourage Amateurs from beginning activities, experiments, and participation in new and different modes. This is very undesirable as we should be encouraging activity in new and different modes, not discouraging.