

hello well i was readying about the pittance for eliminating morse code from ham licensing i would like to see it taken out like me and im sure there are others they just seem to have trouble learning and dont care to use it i only want to learn it because then i can use the bands that will open up with the general licensing